

Oliver Schlenker

University of Konstanz, Cluster of Excellence "The Politics of Inequality"
& ZEW - Leibniz Centre for European Economic Research
Mail: oliver.schlenker@uni-konstanz.de
Personal Website

last update: April 2024

Research Interests	I am an applied microeconomist in the field of labor and health economics , with a particular interest in the consequences of technological change and labor scarcity.
Academic Background	Ph.D. student in Economics since 2020 Graduate School of the Social and Behavioral Sciences, Konstanz, Germany • Supervisors: Prof. Dr. Sebastian Findeisen and Prof. Dr. Nicolas Ziebarth M.Sc. in Economics (Dual Degree) 2020 University of Konstanz, Germany, & University of Rome "Tor Vergata", Italy • Final grade: Very good (Master thesis: 1.0/A)
Employment History	Researcher since 2021 ZEW - Leibniz Centre for European Economic Research, Labour Markets and Social Insurance, Mannheim, Germany Research fellow since 2020 Cluster of Excellence "The Politics of Inequality" & Chair of Economic Policy, University of Konstanz, Germany Research intern 2020 Leibniz Centre for European Economic Research (ZEW), Mannheim, Germany Research assistant 2016 - 2017 Chair of Economic and Social Policy, Prof. em. Dr. Friedrich Breyer, University of Konstanz, Germany
Teaching Experience	Bachelor seminar in Public Economics (advisor) 2020 - 2023 Third year B.Sc. Economics, University of Konstanz, Germany Preparation course in Microeconomics (lecturer) 2020 - 2021 First year M.Sc. Political Economy, University of Konstanz, Germany Microeconomics and Economic Policy (teaching assistant) 2017 - 2019 First and second year B.Sc. Economics, University of Konstanz, Germany
Work in Progress	The Deadly Consequences of Skilled Labor Scarcity: Evidence from German Hospitals (single-authored) Organized Labor versus Robots? Evidence from Microdata (with Wolfgang Dauth and Sebastian Findeisen)

Are We Yet Sick of New Technologies? The Unequal Health Effects of Digitalization
(with Melanie Arntz, Stephan Maurer, and Sebastian Findeisen)

Entry Regulations and the Provision of Medical Services
(with Eduard Brüll and Davud Rostam-Afschar)

Keeping the Doctor Away: The Effect of Reduced Access to Primary Care on Populations' Health
(with Eduard Brüll and Davud Rostam-Afschar)

Conference and Workshop
Presentations

2024 (incl. scheduled): Seminar in Empirical Microeconomics (Konstanz), IAB PhD Conference "Perspectives on (Un-)Employment" (Nuremberg), Labor Fika (Stockholm University), Inequality Conference (Konstanz), Conference on Technological Change (UCLouvain), Brown Bag Seminar (IIES Stockholm), Annual Conference of the European Society for Population Economics (Rotterdam), European Health Economics Association Conference (Vienna), Brown Bag Seminar (St. Gallen)

2023: Seminar in Empirical Microeconomics (Konstanz). Workshop on the Economics of the Healthcare Workforce (Surrey), Doctoral Colloquium (EXC "Inequality" Konstanz), European Health Economists Association PhD Conference (Bologna), European Association for Research in Industrial Economics Conference (Rome), European Association of Labor Economists Conference (Prague), German Economic Association Annual Meeting (Regensburg), 8th Potsdam PhD Workshop in Empirical Economics (Potsdam), Skills for the Future Conference (LISER Luxembourg)

2022: Seminar in Empirical Microeconomics (Konstanz)

2021: Doctoral Seminar in Public Economics (Konstanz), Doctoral Colloquium (EXC "Inequality" Konstanz)

Research Stays

Aix-Marseille School of Economics

Sept 2021, March 2023

Stockholm University (with David Seim)

Feb - Jun 2024